Summer Reading Bingo

We are celebrating over four years of our Book of the Month program with our first-ever Summer Reading Bingo! Visitors, and readers of every age, are invited to play along through Labor Day. You will also get the chance to win a small prize. Please see below for details:

- Summer Reading Bingo will run from June 18 - September 7. The last day to participate will be our September Free First Saturday, which offers free admission and an art activity from 11 am - 1 pm. Claim your prize and enjoy a fun visit to the Museum!
- Every straight line BINGO achieved (horizontally, vertically, or diagonally) earns you a small prize. To claim your prize bring in your board to the Museum and visit our front desk.
- Any square asking you to visit a specific location, please ask their staff member to initial that block.
- Our past and future Book of the Month picks can be found on our Instagram (@Lyman_Allyn) and Facebook (Lyman Allyn Art Museum) pages.
- To get the most out of this summer reading challenge, please use one book per square.

All prizes will be given on the honor system. However, consider keeping a written list of your books for your own record and to provide recommendations to fellow players and friends. You may share your book titles with the Museum when you stop in for your prize or tag us on social media using #LAAMSummerReading. Please keep in mind that we have three versions of our board, so your BINGO may not match a friend or family member. Happy reading!
